THE VOLUNTEER CREW

ADOPT A DACHSHUND FROM COAST TO COAST DACHSHUND RESCUE

Coast to Coast Dachshund Rescue, c2cdr.org, is a 501 (c) (3) national organization with a large volunteer/member base in most every state. CCDR has successfully adopted thousands of dachshunds and dachshund mixes and continues to rank as the number one dachshund rescue organization. CCDR works on a volunteer platform whose members fund the resources needed to retrieve, vet and re-home dachshunds by doing extensive fundraising and educational booths. CCDR also depends on private donations to help subsidize the high cost of vetting and specialized treatments that the foster dogs require prior to adoption. Because adoption fees never cover the actual cost of vetting each foster receives, CCDR works hard to continuously fund raise and participate in information and educational events. All donations go directly to the dogs.

If you're considering a rescue dachshund, visit the Coast to Coast Dachshund Rescue website at c2cdr.org and click on the adoption information link. This informational page will detail the required steps to adopt a dog from CCDR. Rescue dachshunds are magnificent pets and sadly are abundant. Open your home to a rescue and you won't be sorry.

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE DACHSHUND

Some experts think that the Dachshund dates back to antiquity and was depicted in Egyptian Reliefs. While that may be true, it is widely accepted that the Germans were largely responsible for the development of the dog we know today. Their unique shape was developed to search for their quarry, the badger. "Dachshund" translated means "Badger Hound." Hunters of that day used the Dachshund to keep the number of badgers in check while in today's hunters use the Dachshund in a variety of settings. His hunting spirit and good nose, loud tongue and distinctive build make him suitable for below ground work and for beating the bush. His keen nose gives him an advantage over many breeds for trailing. Today Dachshunds can be seen in many activities, such as earthdog, agility, tracking, obedience, field trials and conformation. In addition, some are involved in pet therapy work while others have been trained as drug sniffing dogs by the police.

According to the standard, "The Dachshund is low to the ground, long in body and short of leg with robust muscles and elastic, pliable skin." The Dachshund is bred in two sizes, which are defined by weight. The standard Dachshund ranges in weight from 16-32 lb. and the miniature Dachshund weighs 11 lb. and under. In addition, they are bred in three coat varieties, the smooth (short hair), the long hair (long, silky coat) and the wire (a dense, wiry coat). His small to medium size makes him particularly suited for small yards and apartment living.

WHAT ARE WIENER RACES?

Wiener Races are races for Dachshunds. You enter your dog and he runs against three others about 35 ft. You hold Doxi at the starting line and have another family member to the finish line and call your dog.

IS THERE A FEE FOR THE DOGS?

One adult gets into the Cleveland Oktoberfest free with a dog. There is a $8.00 fee to enter the races. You can enter more than one event for $8.00 each. All proceeds benefit Coast to Coast Dachshunds Rescue.

IF I GO, WHAT DO I DO WITH MY DOG WHILE I WANT TO GO AROUND THE CLEVELAND OKTOBERFEST?

Take the dog with you! He might like wiener schnitzel or the dancers!

IS THERE A PLACE FOR THE DOG TO GO TO THE BATHROOM?

Not really, most folks carry a couple plastic bags in their pocket to pick up their dog's deposit and put it in a nearby trash container.

HOW DO THE RACES WORK?

First you sign up and pay your $8.00. You will also be told which heat you will run in and the approximate time. Then you wait for your heat. When it is your turn, you go to the "Vest Table" and borrow a running vest. Put the running vest on your dog. Then a family member goes to the finish line to call the dog, the other family member goes to the starting gate. The judge will make sure all of the starters are in place, and will yell "GO!" The gate keepers will open the gates, the dog holder lets go of the dog. The dog runs to whoever is calling it. The Judge observes who wins. Dog and owners get a ribbon and return their vest. If your dog has won this heat, you wait around until that age group's heats are finished and go again (no charge).
